World Environment Day Events – WED 2016

Intersarsity Debate

World Environment Day (WED) is celebrated every year on 5th June to promote awareness and to encourage people to take responsibility to safeguard our Mother Earth. It is also an opportunity for everyone to reflect on how our actions and choices affect the environment and its inhabitants. AIMST University believes in fostering this culture with sustainable initiatives. To commemorate these efforts, AIMST University in conjunction with World Environment Day is organizing an intersarsity debate for university students in the northern region. It would be a platform for young leaders to examine ideas and environmental policies with the aim of persuading people. It would also allow an exchange of intellectual arguments and engage with opposing views with vigour and passion towards pivotal environmental issues.
